D uring the time that I was a professional trumpet player in the San Francisco theaters I created and patented three different two-player strategy games. I took these games to work with me and my musician friends and I frequently played them during “breaks” in the musical performances. These games were enjoyed very much by my colleagues and they encouraged me to contact the major toy companies to do the manufacturing. After several failed attempts at this, I made the decision to do the manufacturing and market my own inventions. Thus, Shoptaugh Games Inc. was born.

Our company has grown steadily as more games and a construction toy have been added to the collection. These products have received many awards from various institutions as well as numerous personal testimonials. Our mission is to make toys and games that are fun, challenging, thought provoking and of the best possible quality. We sincerely believe that all of the toys and games in this catalog reach this high standard of excellence.
